POTTERS LOSE CUSTOM

Big Buyers Purchasing English Ware.

MUST GO WEST FOR TRADE

As the Seaboard Will Soon be in the Hands of the Importers—Freight Rates May Give Local Manufacturers an Advantage. But that is Their Only Hold.

Since congress hit the pottery industry such a blow a few months ago some of the more thoughtful in this city have been watching the effect on business, and endeavoring to evolve some plan whereby their ware can find a market at prices that will permit of profit to the operative and manufacturer.

Salesmen, who have been traveling over the country, have kept their ears wide open, and are in position to talk intelligently of the ruinous prices at which English and German ware is being offered today. One salesman was at a seaboard town not long ago, and called upon a man who has always been a good customer. The house wanted some goods, and was glad to look at the samples, but when he heard the prices he almost dropped dead. What he wanted to purchase would amount to $36 at the factory in this city, but he would not buy. As evidence that he was not discriminating against him the dealer showed where he could have the same goods of English make put down at his store door for $32. This almost paralyzed the salesman, but he continued his trip thinking as hard as possible of where it was all going to end. One day he sent in an order of toilet sets which cost at the freight depot in this place $1.70. He felt safe in selling the goods because he knew they were put out especially to catch trade, and ought to sell if anything did. Imagine his surprise when he received word from the firm here that the order had been countermanded. The dealer had written in explanation that he could buy the same thing for $1.40 delivered, that is he could save 30 cents on every set he sold by buying goods that were made abroad. The salesman visited a number of towns on the coast, but found in the majority that the importers were getting in their work, and could make offers, without losing money, which would drive the American traveler frantic. Away from the coast, however, it was not so bad and goods were sold for keeps.

The News Review was informed by a man who knows what he is talking about, and his words were confirmed by two others, that the potters would have to look to the west for their trade in the future. The importers would pay particular attention to the eastern trade from now until congress shuts them out by an increase in the duty, and they could easily have their ware delivered at prices that would be lower than the American manufacturer are getting today. Already they have dipped extensively into the pond and as usual have come out with their pockets well lined. An instance of how they can capture the market is shown by the action of a big house in New York. Its buyer has always favored domestic ware, and one concern in this city has supplied it with many carloads of goods. The other day an importer showed what he had, and gave the prices which acted much in the nature of a settler for the house gave notice to East Liverpool that it did not care for domestic goods when those of foreign manufacture are so much cheaper. The Trenton people will have a harder row to hoe than the western potteries since the greater part of their trade is in the eastern states, and the importers will be harder to fight. East Liverpool has by several cents the best of the bargain because of its situation, but that is all. If the importers find that they can cripple the local manufacturers in the west, and south they will not long be idle. Their men will soon be tearing through the country offering ware at prices that will kill any sort of American competition. It is the belief among some well informed manufacturers here that the next few months will tell the tale. If congress, upon convening, decides to put the tariff where Senator Smith promised, the importations will in a measure cease, and domestic producers will again be able to battle for trade on the land of their own country.

The Trenton correspondent to a trade paper says that it looks as though the matter was going to be settled there without any trouble. If the men will not meet the reduction proposed by the manufacturers their potteries will run until they can no longer sell goods; at which time they will be shut down. According to the writer some of the plants were partially idle last week, and a portion of the men will resume work on Monday. He also claims to possess the cheering intelligence that the promised tariff rate will be put on imported ware. He does not begin to give the source of his information, but seems to be satisfied that he is telling the truth. Should this prove true there is little danger of there being either a reduction in wages or a scarcity of work since the cut decided upon in Washington was made upon the proposed tariff basis.

A BIG RISE.

The River Comes up Eight Feet More—Packets Now Running.

The long looked for raise in the Ohio has at last arrived and rivermen can hardly express the joy they feel. Yesterday and last night the river swelled eight feet, making altogether a raise of 12 feet from the lowest point. The river is still coming up slowly and boats are beginning to run. Several towboats passed down last night, and their resounding whistles was sweet music in the ears of the wharfmen. There is now plenty of water and the first packet, the Scotia, will be up from Parkersburg tonight and will go from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati, passing here tomorrow evening.

The Courier, which has been laid up at Parkersburg, is also expected up and the Keystone from Marietta, where she has been during the summer. If the Keystone arrives she will be down next week on her regular trip. There is a possibility of the lien Hur starting out today, although nothing has been heard from the boat. The Bedford, according to Pittsburgh papers, will go out on this water and it is supposed that she will leave Wheeling as soon as it is time for her regular trip to the Smoky City.

KILLED AT PITTSBURG.

Fireman William Carnahan Meets Death on the Track Last Night.

While walking on the railroad tracks at Pittsburgh last night, William Carnahan, of Salineville, met with injuries which will result in his death.

The unfortunate man is employed on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh main line as fireman, and was on duty when the noon train east bound passed through this city yesterday. It is supposed that he was going to his boarding house after having quit work and rode a part of the way on a freight train. As he leaped from the train the accommodation on the opposite track struck him. His head was crushed and he was injured internally. He was picked up and an ambulance took him to the West Penn hospital where his injuries were pronounced fatal. The unfortunate man was married and resided in Salineville. He is a cousin of William Carnahan of this city.

Died at Tiltonville.

Rosa, wife of James Hill, died yesterday at her home in Tiltonville after an illness of five weeks with typhoid fever. Deceased was aged only 29 years and was well known to all the Tiltonville people. She leaves beside a husband, two children, a girl and boy aged 10 and 8 years respectively. Mrs. Hill was the daughter of Mrs. Nancy Allison, of Second street, and was married about 11 years ago. Her husband has been working in the Tiltonville pottery, but his mother resides in California hollow, this city. The remains were brought to this city on the 1 o'clock train today and the funeral will take place on Sunday from the Allison residence, on Second street.

No Improvement.

Some time ago the condition of board walks in various parts of the city was discussed at a meeting of council, and the announcement made that the walks would be torn up if property owners failed to make the needed repairs. To the present but little has been done, and the walks are, if anything, worse than before. Great holes yawn at some places to receive the unwary pedestrian, and sudden steps make the walking anything but pleasant. It is doubtful if worse walks can be found anywhere.

Will Close Early.

The barbers of the city held a meeting last night and decided that after Oct. 1 their places of business will close at 8 o'clock. They also adopted a scale of prices which will be printed and placed where every customer in every shop in the city can see it. The organization is complete, and includes every establishment in the city with the exception of one.

EXCITEMENT GALORE

Accidents Which Drew Crowds Yesterday.

A FIRE AND A FALSE ALARM

A Runaway, a Bicycle Collision, a Little Girl's Fall, and a Lady Struck by a Buggy in the Diamond—No Serious Damage Resulted.

Following the fire in Albright's pharmacy yesterday afternoon there was plenty of excitement. The fire, as mentioned briefly in the News Review last night, occurred about 4 o'clock. Just how it originated is a mystery, although several theories are put forward as to the cause. It was thought by some that a bottle of inflammable liquid burst and the flames ignited from the gas jet, which was burning nearby. The jet alone is not thought to have had anything to do in starting the blaze, as it was several yards from the spot where the fire started. The fire did considerable damage. Many bottles were destroyed by the heat and nearly all of them were full of drugs. The old prescriptions on file were almost a total loss, and the woodwork about the room was charred somewhat. The firemen did their work well and spoiled very little by water, using their chemical apparatus. The loss will amount to about several hundred dollars.

Not a half hour after the firemen had left the scene, another alarm brought them out in a hurry. It was from a patrol box, but the fire signal had been given. As they were not clear what the alarm meant, a run was made to the patrol station, where Patrolman Harry Meador was preparing to answer the supposed fire call. Then it developed that the alarm number at the Laughlin pottery, 174, had been changed to 122 and the first number transferred to the First National bank building. As the box at the bank had just been placed in position it was being tested and by mistake a fire call was made.

Shortly afterward, almost before the second round of excitement had died away, an exciting runaway occurred on Sixth street. The horse and wagon of Edwin Oppelt and his driver, Will Nagle, a boy of 12 or 14 years, figured in the affair. The horse scared on upper Sixth street and tore down the thoroughfare like mad. The wagon slid from one side of the street to the other and once, at the Crosser-Ogilvie store, it ran sideways into the pavement. Young Nagle still retained a hold on the lines and managed to keep his seat, but it is reasonable to remark that his hair stood on end. The lower end of the street was reached before a rescuer came. Frank Whittaker leaped into the wagon from the rear and after a short struggle brought the horse to its haunches and glad to remain quiet. No damage outside the bruising of the horse's legs and the breaking of some harness was done. This horse is the same one that ran off with Fred Cook a few days ago on West Market street. An immense crowd gathered in the Diamond yesterday and watched the runaway horse, and they almost held their breath in excitement.

Soon another crowd had gathered on Fifth street, near the Eagle Hardware company's store, where an accident had occurred. Homer Taylor was riding rapidly along the street on his bicycle when he struck a boy named Bradley. The lad was knocked down and badly hurt, as it was some time before he was able to move. One wheel of the cycle had passed over him and he sat on the curbstone quite sick for some time and was taken to his home on lower Washington street in a buggy. The little daughter of Thomas Clinton sustained injuries by a fall from the fence around the family residence on Second street, last night. The little one's screams brought her parents to the scene and her face was so badly bruised that it was thought her nose had been broken. Such did not prove to be the case and beyond a few bad bruises she was uninjured.

Last evening when Miss Maggie Tracy was crossing Sixth street near the Diamond, she was struck and knocked down by a horse driven by Thomas Abrams. A great crowd gathered in an instant, and it was with difficulty that the lady was raised from the ground. She had received several bruises about the head and neck and was shaken up. A carriage was secured and she was taken to her home. There the injuries were attended to, and the lady made as comfortable as possible. Although the bruises are of a painful nature it is not thought that there will be serious results.

Broke the Eggs.

Mr. Moore, a farmer residing not far from this city, on the Calcutta road, was driving to town this morning, when his team became unmanageable and ran away. The wagon was ditched on Calcutta street, and its contents of butter, eggs, etc., piled in a promiscuous mass. Mr. Moore was not injured, but the eggs were a total loss, as was almost everything else in the wagon. The horses were frightened by the wagon going into the gutter.

NEWS FROM LISBON.

The Weekly Grind of the County Courts Goes Merrily On.

NEW LISBON, Sept. 20.—James Chartiers, of this city, filed an action today in court against the heirs of the late Daniel D. Mackintosh, of Wayne township, asking for a sale of their property in Wayne township to satisfy a claim he has against the estate, which is secured by a mortgage on this land. The amount he claims due him is $1,419, due on a promissory note given him in 1888. About a year after this Daniel Mackintosh died, leaving an estate insufficient to pay this without the sale of the property. Henry Benner and Robert Binsley also claim some interest in the land, and he wants the court to require them to set them up.

The case of John E. Gamble versus George F. Murdock, Watson Johnston and H. W. Sinclair was brought here on appeal from mayor's court, of Wellsville, this morning. Last week the case was tried there and judgment given against Murdock for $99.95, the amount asked, who appeals it here.

Sheriff Lodge was authorized today to convey to the Cleveland asylum Mrs. Rebecca Van Fossan, wife of Ex-County Commissioner Jacob Van Fossan. Four years ago Mrs. Van Fossan was adjudged insane by this court, but in a few months was discharged from the asylum pronounced cured.

Why It Choked.

The snake story season is still with us and bids fair to continue until winter's blasts have driven even the snake liar to his lair. The latest is that an East Liverpool man went hunting and came upon a snake in great agony. It beckoned to him with its head and the hunter lost no time in going to its aid. Then he noticed a lump in the serpent's throat. The snake opened its mouth appealingly and the man reached in and pulled forth a bulky document. It was a copy of the Wilson bill and the poor snake was slowly choking to death. The snake showed its gratitude by chasing squirrels from one side of the tree to the other for the man to shoot and has ever since accompanied him on his hunting tours with success.

How the Tariff Works.

A man whose income has been visibly affected by the tariff writes the following to the News Review: A four dollar hat is a four dollar hat. "The tariff has nothing to do with that." That is the tale I have been told. So if you want to be in style, go buy yourself a brand new tie. The same price as you paid for the old.

Mercer is Coming.

Winnie Mercer will finish his work with the Washington base ball club Saturday and is expected home on Monday next. The phenomenal pitcher will be royally received by his East Liverpool admirers and his friends here are talking of giving him a public reception on his return.

A Union Club.

Tomorrow night between 25 and 30 well known men will meet in the Union House, West Market street, to form what will be known as the Union club. The club will be composed of union men only and an application will be made immediately for a charter under the laws of Ohio.

Will Make Washboards.

The Beaver pottery has been re-organized under the name of the Beaver Valley Pottery company and will soon be at work. The concern will manufacture washboards from clay having succeeded in obtaining what they believe to be a valuable patent.

Reserved Seats Monday.

A large number of tickets have been sold for the "Charity Ball," and arrangements made to have them reserved Monday. It is estimated that already 500 have been disposed of.

Licensed to Marry.

New Lisbon, Sept. 21.—A marriage license was today granted to Andrew E. McLean and Miss Rebecca A. Hart, both of East Liverpool.

Wanted.

A man and wife with no family desire to rent a house of six rooms in the center of the city. Apply at this office.

A BULLET IN HIS HAND

William Mader Played With a Revolver.

A LONG JAGGED WOUND

The Result of a Slight Acquaintance With a Pistol—The Accident Will Prevent Him From Working For Some Time Even Though the Ball Was Cut Out.

A revolver came near ending the life of William Mader, a young man who resides on the other side of the river.

Last night Mader called at the office of Doctor Sloan, and said that there was a bullet in his hand which he would like to have taken out. The physician, upon examination found a pistol ball lodged in the fleshy part of his hand, and knew that only heroic measures could do the sufferer any good. Locating the ball, Doctor Sloan proceeded to cut it out, and dress the great, jagged wound so the man could rest a little easier. Mader said that he had been toying with the revolver, and before he knew what had happened the cartridge exploded leaving the bullet in his hand. He had suffered greatly, but felt better when he knew the lead was where it could do him no harm. When told that the operation was over he asked how long it would be before he could cut corn. The doctor informed him that it would be many a day, perhaps not until it was too late to cut corn this year, for the wound made by the bullet is long and will require some time to heal. The hand is swollen to an enormous size today.

He Paid the Dollar.

When Doctor Sloan attended the encampment last week he met a friend he had not seen since they were together in the army about 31 years ago. When the veteran saw the doctor he went down into his pocket, and handing him a dollar insisted on him taking it. The doctor likes dollars as well as anyone, but he could see no reason why he should take that one, and refused until the veteran explained that the last time they met Dr. Sloan loaned him two 50 cent shin plasters, and he had always promised himself to pay the debt when next he saw him. When the doctor got home he selected a handsome volume from his library, and sent it to the honest soldier.

He Feels Safe.

Otto Schmidtbauer, Jr., the night soiler who has been sued in mayor's court by John Rinehart for dumping filth in the river, says he feels safe as far as the action is concerned. This is because the board of health is at his back. No date for the hearing of Schmidtbauer's case has yet been set.

A Worthy Cause.

The ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance union will give a concert and festival in the Fifth street rink, Saturday, Sept. 22. It is for a worthy cause and they ask the public to come and help them. Admission 10 cents. Choice cream, cake and fruits will be for sale.

Going to College.

Neil Kitchell and his friend, Frank R. Kimbly, of Kentucky, who has been visiting him here, will leave tomorrow to resume college studies at Yale after a few months vacation.

Company E Will Meet.

Company E will meet in their armory tonight, and as there is business of vital importance to come up, it is necessary that every member be in his place.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Mr. Ansley called on East End friends.
—Miss Anna Watt, of Cleveland, is visiting friends in this city for a few days.
—Mr. Andrew White, of Leipsic, near Toledo, is visiting relatives in East End.

fair play in these columns.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, SEPT. 21.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY should have a state candidate next year. Why not,
the timber is here in abundance.

If congress is kind enough to place a duty of 40 and 45 per cent on crochery the Ceramic City will be all right.

The Democrats will carry the south as of old, but they may hear something interesting in Louisiana after election day.

TOM JOHNSON can build and operate electric railways, but he can not whip a man like Senator Brice in the political arena.

CALVIN S. BRICE has manipulated too many deals on the New York stock exchange not to be conversant with the means of stealing the Ohio Democracy.

WITH William McKinley in the white house and J. B. Foraker in the senate Ohio will have a representation at Washington of which it can well be proud.

UNDER the new Democratic tariff the East Liverpool potter gets less for his work and pays more for his sugar.
The politicians robbed him at both ends when they framed that compromise bill.

If Colonel Breckenridge desires to retain what few friends he now possesses he will think no more of contest, but retire as soon as possible to private life. He has been a public character too long for the good of the country.

SENATOR SMITH should remember in these days of rest and peace that he has a promise to carry out when congress meets again, a promise which may be of great good to the Trenton potters he expects to vote for him when he is a candidate for governor.

No better showing of the inconsistency of Democracy can be found than the position of Editor Potts, of New Lisbon. A year ago he was howling himself hoarse declaring they made not in this country, now he is straining his lungs because some company won't come to Lisbon and make it.

If Calvin S. Brice should control the patronage in Ohio next year, and his victory at Columbus prompts that belief, some of the faithful who condemned him in this county a few weeks ago, will tread air in their efforts to say something about the disposition of some plans.

A YEAR OF CONFIDENCE.

The Republicans are confident this year. They have been confident since Democratic congressmen demonstrated that they could not make good laws. Reports from all over the union show that the party leaders are active, and preparing for the campaign with all the energy they can muster. There is only one danger to be feared this year, and that is over-confidence. If every Republican works and votes as he thinks there will be a Republican house of representatives next March, and a Republican senate when the different state legislatures complete their work. If on the other hand they express the belief that there will be enough without them the Democrats will go to the polls in force, and in all probability win a few victories. It is essential that the next congress be Republican, it is necessary for the welfare of the people, but it can never be brought about except by the votes of good citizens who desire to see the country prosper and its people made the happiest on earth. To change the infamous tariff we must change the reform congress.

ALASKA'S BAD FUTURE

Furbearing Animals and Fish
Getting Scarce.

NOON NO SOURCE OF REVENUE

To the Government, Unless Something Is Done—Will Hardly Be Able to Support the Native Population—Adventurers and Fish Companies to Blame.

DENVER, Sept. 21.—Joseph Murray, fish commissioner for Alaska, who has just returned from a trip to that country with Assistant Secretary Hamlin of the treasury department, in an interview here says:
"Unless some steps are taken there will shortly be no fur-bearing animals in Alaska. The adventurers who flock in there are rapidly exterminating the animals, and the companies who are canning salmon are no better. The laws need enforcement and the government should have plenty of agents there to see they are enforced."
"Fox skins range from $100 to $300.
A party goes on an island with a supply of strychnine, bait is poisoned and the foxes eat it. They are skinned and a stake is made. The carcass is eaten by crows and the birds die. Foxes that missed the poisoned bait eat the poisoned birds and in a short time there is not a fox on the island."
"The seal fisheries are fast playing out. Five years ago there was no trouble in getting 100,000 skins. This year, though allowed to take 30,000, the company only got 16,000. The salmon fishers spread their nets in the mouth of rivers up which the fish endeavor to ascend in order to spawn. Every one is taken out and as a result there are no young fish. Unless something is done soon Alaska, instead of being a source of revenue to the government, will be unable to support even its native population."

Garmentmakers Strike.
BOSTON, Sept. 21.—Acting upon the instructions of the clothing trades council No. 2, the garmentmakers of this city, to the number of 5,000, have struck.

The strike is against the lumping and sweating system. The individual contractors will probably give in to the employees.

The Debs' Case Arguments.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The government is preparing to submit the final arguments in the case against President
Debs of the American Railway union
Sept. 25th at Chicago. The testimony was concluded Sept. 13 when the defense rested.

Another Tariff Law Omission.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Examination of the tariff law at the treasury department discloses the fact that it contains no provision whatever for a duty upon imported fruits, preserved in brandy or other spirits.

Stout Not Indicted.
WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 21.—Albert Stout, who has been under arrest here charged with murdering Katie Dugan, was not indicted by the grand jury.

Elections Fixed For October.
BRUSSELS, Sept. 21.—A decree has been published dissolving the chamber of deputies and the senate and fixing elections for Oct. 14.

HAD POWDER READY.

Brutal Treatment of American Exiles by Nicaraguans.

AN ATTACK MEANT DEATH TO THEM

The Nicaraguans Expected U. S. Marines to Attempt a Rescue—Prisoners Would Have Been Blown Into Eternity—Capt. O'Neil Makes Madriz Back Down.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—Dispatches have arrived here from Bluefields, Nicaragua, which state that Captain Sumner of the United States steamer Columbia acted wisely in not interfering with the Nicaraguans when they exiled the two Americans, Mr. Sim Lampton and Captain Wilbank.

The two Americans have been returned by the British cruiser Mohawk and now have quarters on the United States steamer Marblehead, where they are awaiting a fair and open trial demanded by President Cleveland.

When it was found impossible to leave Bluefields as soon as expected, the men under General Reyes, and even General Reyes himself, expected an attack from the marines of the Columbia and Marblehead. Two 3-inch Krupp guns were run out to suitable positions and 300 men hidden away among the plants on shore as sharpshooters. The prisoners at this time were quartered in a small building behind the customhouse. During the forenoon of Aug. 17, several soldiers were sent to lash two 10-pound cans of gun power together and fit out a fuse. This deadly instrument was then taken to the building where the prisoners were quartered and placed in the center of the room.

A soldier was stationed by the powder with instructions to set fire to the fuse when the light began. One of the officers told Mr. Lampton to watch close and at the first sign of a light to run for his life. It would be better to stand the chance of escaping had marksmen than being blown to atoms. When they heard the Yulu in the evening powder was carried along and placed near where the prisoners were stationed. When they were taken to the old Spanish town of San Juan Del Norte, the powder enjoyed a prominent position in the hotel, and even on the river boat it was also kept in readiness.

Through the influence of the Nicaraguans Americans were elected to municipal positions. This was done to deprive them of United States protection. Several declined to serve. Madriz had stated that any successful candidate who refused to serve to the office to which he had been elected would be fined $50 a day throughout the entire term of office, but the determined stand of Captain O'Neil of the Marblehead compelled Madriz to ignore his own decree.

Satisfied With Relief Furnished.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 21.—The state relief commission has spent considerable time at Hinckley and Pine City, investigating the complaints made by a few of the sufferers that relief was not being given as fast as needed. After a full conference between the commission and people of Hinckley the people have expressed themselves as satisfied with the work being done. The work of rebuilding is under way and Hinckley citizens expect soon to have a better town than before the fire.

The Catholic Summer School.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The new board of studies of the Catholic summer school of America have decided upon the plans for the conduct of the school at its next session. They have determined that the next session of the summer school shall continue six weeks because of the large attendance at the last session and with a view to giving greater thoroughness to the work.

Want to Unite on One Candidate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The executive committee of seventy has decided to request all the anti-Tammany organizations not to nominate a city ticket, but instead, to appoint a conference committee to meet with the committee of seventy. The idea is to nominate a candidate on whom all the anti-Tammany organizations can unite.

Gambling Stopped In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—The crusade of the Civic federation against gambling in Chicago has resulted in the complete stoppage of all games. Not a house has opened its doors and the federation's detectives, armed with warrants to raid several places, reported that all games had ceased.

Evidently Want a Receiver.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 21.—The belief is growing among those who know something of the inside workings of the whisky trust that a crisis is rapidly approaching and that some of its officers would not care much if it were thrown into the hands of a receiver.

Will Meet In Buffalo.

BOSTON, Sept. 21.—The closing session of the Supreme Court, Twenty-third degree Masons, was entirely devoted to a consideration of rituals and memorials to deceased members. The council will meet at Buffalo next year.

The War Airship Transferred.

DENVER, Sept. 21.—Orders have been issued for the transfer of the great war airship General Meyer from Fort Riley, Kan., to Fort Logan, Denver, and after Nov. 1 instruction in that branch of the signal service will be given here.

Killed In a Drunken Row.

VALEVIEW, Ky., Sept. 21.—Jessie Howard and Robert Jones got into a drunken row across the river from here in which Howard shot Jones with a shotgun killing him instantly. Howard was arrested and taken to jail.

Searle Arrives at Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 21.—R. P. Searle, the bicyclist, has arrived here. He was met by an enthusiastic congregation of wheelmen, and left for Syracuse within half an hour.

Net Cash In the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The net cash in the treasury at the close of business was $125,744,803, of which $57,918,955 represented the gold reserve.

CAN TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

Senator Hill's Enigmatic Interview on Governmental Possibilities.

ALBANY, Sept. 21.—Your representative had a talk with Senator Hill at his summer home, two miles north of Albany.

"Will you be a candidate for governor if the party decides that you alone can aid it?" was asked.

"For publication I must decline to say no to such a question, and I must also decline to say yes," he answered, with a twinkle of his eye.

"What about Mr. Daniel Lockwood?" was the next question.

"Mr. Lockwood is a strong man," (This with an emphasis on Lockwood.) "Well, then, Mr. Frederick Cook?" "A strong and popular man." (This with emphasis particularly on popular.) "Then Mr. John Boyd Thacher is mentioned?" "Mr. Thacher is a strong man, a very strong man." This emphasis this time on Thacher and rising to a climax on "strong man."

Carlisle Served With the Papers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Secretary Carlisle has been served with the papers in the mandamus proceedings brought by the Miles Planting and Manufacturing company of Louisiana to compel the inspection of their plant under the bounty provision of the McKinley law. The papers are returnable Oct. 4. Assistant Attorney General Whitney has been detailed to defend the secretary.

A Counterfeiter Arrested.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Chief Hazen of the treasury secret service has been informed of the arrest at Ashley, Ill., of A. H. Hadley, alias H. Waterman, on the charge of counterfeiting a $20 treasury note of the series having on its face the Manning vignette. Hadley made the plates for the counterfeiting, and according to Mr. Hazen's advice he admits it.

Accepted O'Rourke's Resignation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Secretary Carlisle has accepted the resignation of Mr. O'Rourke, the former supervising architect of the treasury. The secretary's letter was a formal one. Architect O'Rourke declined to talk with reference to the troubles in his office, but said that he might make a statement within a few days.

Humbert Predicts a New Future.

ROME, Sept. 21.—The anniversary of the entry of the Italian troops into Rome was celebrated with great ceremony throughout Italy. King Humbert, in a telegram to the mayor of Rome, prophesied that the celebration of 1895 would also be the celebration of the economic resurrection of Italy.

Pirates Attempt Trainwrecking.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—An official dispatch received here from He Noi, the capital of Tonquin, says that a number of pirates attempted to wreck a train from Lamson. The Chinese engineer was killed and two Frenchmen were carried off. Colonel Gallieni is pursuing the pirates.

A Prominent Planter In Jail.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 21.—William Durham, a prominent planter of Montgomery county, is in jail at Clarksville under peculiar circumstances. He gave one of his negro hands, Sam Price, a drink of whisky. Price died within an hour, alleging that he had been poisoned.

Everything Quiet at Bluefields.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Assurances have reached the state department to the effect that tranquility prevails in Bluefields, that the marshal law has been revoked and that the entire Mosquito reservation is now under the constitutional law of Nicaragua.

Czar and Son Both Ill.

WARSAW, Sept. 21.—The health of Grand Duke George, second son of the czar, has taken a very serious turn. The imperial family is going to the Crimea. The czar's health is also again causing much apprehension among his relatives and attendants.

They Admit Women.

CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 21.—The Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., has adopted legislation admitting all Odd Fellows and wives and all white women over 18 years of age who "believe in the Ruler of the Universe."

THEY ARE DEAD.

There was a man who never told a lie— But he's dead— Never said it was wet when the weather was dry— Never said—

He'd caught fish when he hadn't caught one. Never said he'd done something that he hadn't done. Never scolded his wife, and never got mad. And wouldn't believe that the world was so bad.

A respecter of men, a defender of woman. Who believed the divine, and in that which was human. Meek as Moses—his never was understood. And the poor man died of being too good. And he's dead.

There was a woman who never had gossiped a bit— She's dead, too— Who hated all scandal, not listened to it. She believed in mankind, took care of her cat. Always turned a deaf ear to this story or that. Never scolded her husband—she never had one.

No saggard was she, but rose with the sun. Never whispered in meeting, didn't care for a bonnet. Or all of the feathers that one could put on it. Never sat with the choir nor sang the wrong note.

Expressed no desire to lecture or vote. For the poor soul was deaf as a post—also dumb. You might have called forever, and she wouldn't have come. And she's dead.

THE OLD GENERAL'S SCHEME.

Effective as an Indian Exterminator, but Too Merciless to Try.

"A good many years ago the Comanche Indians used to harry and annoy the people of Texas by predatory incursions, pretty much, I fancy, as the Scottish highlanders did their brethren who dwelt in less mountainous regions," said Colonel Alf Mason of the Lone Star State. "The Comanches, too, had exactly the same purpose in view that animated the adherents of Rob Roy—the lifting of cattle—and it would be hard to say which made the greatest success of the business, the sturdy freebooters of Scotia or the copper headed denizens of the American plains. The Texans of course resented to the utmost this conduct of the redskins, and many a brave paid the death penalty for trying to get away with horses or cows that did not belong to him."

"Many a poor settler, too, in trying to save his little homestead, fell a victim to the barbarous foe. Some unusually cruel raids, in which a number of white women and little children were butchered, about the year 1859, in Williamson county, not far from the state capital, caused the resentment of the people to rise to a boiling pitch, and vengeance was sworn against the whole tribe of marauding red demons. The affair was so ruthless in its atrocity that it came very near being the cause of a wholesale slaughter of the Indians, which could have scarcely been justified."

"The proposition came from one of the noted frontiersmen and Indian fighters of that day, who has long since crossed over the river, General Henderson. The old man advanced it coolly and could with difficulty be persuaded to abandon it. It was to invite, under the guise of pretended friendship and reconciliation, all the Comanches that could be assembled in a great scope of surrounding country to a big barbecue, where there was to be eating and drinking galore and a general smoking of the pipe of peace. It was to be a grand feast, especially in the roast beef part of the menu, said beef to be artistically dressed with poison enough to kill every son of a gun of an Indian that partook of it. Well, they wouldn't let the old general carry out his scheme, and he got very hot over it and to the day of his death cursed the sentimental fools that interfered with his plans for reducing the Comanche census."—Washington Post.

ALUM BAKING POWDERS.

The Names of the Principal Brands as Published by the Health Authorities.

The resistance made by some of the manufacturers of alum baking powders to the efforts of the health authorities to suppress their sale has interested the public in a knowledge of the names of the alum brands.

The names of the more prominent ones, named in the official reports so far published, are as follows:

ALUM BAKING POWDERS:

DAVIS' KENTON. DAVIS' O. K. CROWN. DAVIS' DRY YEAST PATAPSCO. FOREST CITY. ATLANTIC & PACIFIC. HIGGINS. HENKEL BROS. ONE SPOON. SILVER STAR. SILVER PRIZE. WASHINGTON. ONE SPOON. MANTHA WINSLOW. COOK'S FAVORITE. OUR BEST. EMPIRE. STATE. PEERLESS. BURNETT'S. SCIOTO. SILVER STAR. CROWN SPECIAL. GOLD. SUN FLOWER. GEM. BUCKEYE.

Kept the Crown.

Orleans House, Twickenham, where Louis Philippe lived when duke of Orleans, is in the property market. In later days, starting as an exiled king at the Star and Garter, Richmond, he walked one day to Twickenham for the purpose, as he said, of seeing some of the old tradesmen who had served him when he resided there. The first person to recognize him was an old man, who doffed his hat and hoped his royal highness was well. The recognition, however, was not mutual. "Perhaps," said the old man, "your royal highness will remember me when I tell you that I kept the Crown"—an allusion close to the entrance of Orleans House. "Do you?" said Louis Philippe. "Let me congratulate you. You are able to do what I am not."—London News.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

W. L. Thomas' household goods have been shipped to Hilton, Pa., from this city.

Walter Locke has returned to the city from a visit to friends in East Palestine. The pottery there is working day and night and the town is in splendid condition.

Robert Boyd was not so unfortunate as to be the loser of the horse which died at the Wannamaker stables Wednesday. The animal belonged to Adams Bros.

A. Overlander has sued John Bauman in Squire Travis' court for $17 claimed due on account. The case will be tried at city hall on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Expressmen remark in wonder at the large number of people moving about town, and some have begun to believe that the time honored custom of changing houses in the spring will be relegated to oblivion.

The private dancing party at Bradshaw hall last evening was among the most pleasant events of its character ever held in the city. About 40 were in attendance, and they merrily tripped the light fantastic until 2 o'clock.

I. N. Crable and Rev. Fouts returned home yesterday from Salineville in the vicinity of which town they have been hunting. They brought home a good haul of the monsters which inhabit the woods about Columbiana county's northwestern edge.

The Sprague Collecting company yesterday entered suit through their attorney, E. D. Marshall, against W. J. Martin for $64.76, the amount of a promissory note. The case was set for a hearing before Squire Travis at city hall at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The residence of Frank Allen, Walnut street, was last evening the scene of a pleasant gathering. A large number of friends were present, and the evening was delightfully spent. Among the chief amusements was music, followed at a late hour by a sumptuous feast.

Officer Mehan, the Cleveland & Pittsburgh officer who has been instructed to clear the train of tramps, has his hands full these days. Scarcely a night passes without some unfortunate being caught, and rail road men say that the number of box car travelers will not approach the record of a year ago.

During the Alhambra fire yesterday, and while Patrolman Meador was leaving the station he was struck on the right eye by the iron handle which is suspended from the ceiling by a rope and which opens the doors. A bad gash was cut above the eye, although it was nothing serious.

Health Officer King has lifted the quarantine on the Riley and Ramsey residences, in East End, which was put on because of scarlet fever among the members of the families. This leaves only one case of fever in the city, it being located on Washington street. As usual the health officer fumigated the East End houses to prevent contagion.

The coroner of Beaver county has completed the inquest over the body of William Rheinheimer, and finds that accident was the cause of his death. The engineer says that he saw the man on the track, his head hanging over the rail, and his body extended along the outside of the ties. The fireman testified to the same thing, both men swearing that it was impossible to stop the train in time to save him.

On Sept. 7, the NEWS REVIEW mentioned the fact that William Dorff had secured judgment by default against Elwood Pusey for $19.48. Yesterday Pusey saw fit to pay the costs and have the judgment reopened for trial. The suit was brought to recover a bill of five years standing claimed due for merchandise and money loaned. Squire Travis heard the case yesterday afternoon, but reserved his decision until today.

George Brown celebrated yesterday and some time in the afternoon he went down to Mrs. Coulson's at the Horn switch. He was in a quarrelsome mood and it did not take long to start a row. There were several concerned in it but Mattie Eoff seemed to have been the most concerned. She appeared at the mayor's office and filed a charge of assault and battery against Brown, and shortly afterward Officer Badgley captured George. He was still in jail this morning pending a hearing in the case.

Leader Curfman, of the Girls' band, took the band out last night on what seemed to them a mysterious trip, inasmuch as no one knew their destination. They all found out when they reached the home of Sadie Manley, the little daughter of Jethro Manley, of Third street, and bass drummer in the band. It was a surprise party for her the occasion being her birthday, but the band was about as much surprised as was little Miss Manley. All spent a most enjoyable evening and music in abundance delighted the residents in that part of the city.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of local union No. 4, pressers, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
WHEREAS, Our Heavenly Father, whom we reverence as the source from which cometh all things, has in his divine wisdom taken from our midst one of our members, be it
Resolved, That in the death of our friend and fellow worker, William Rheinheimer, we have lost a staunch friend, a faithful member of our union and a good citizen; be it further
Resolved, That local union No. 4 extend to the bereaved father and family our sincere sympathy and condolence, urging them to look to Him who in the hour of need comforteth all who suffer and are bereaved, and be it further Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a space of 30 days and a copy of these resolutions be published in the NEWS REVIEW.
LOCAL UNION No. 4.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

A. M. Bailey, a well-known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. Twenty-five and 50 cents a bottle for sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

A FAT MAN'S DEED.

Story of a Tragic Scene on a Brooklyn Trolley Car Which Might Be True.

A very stout old Brooklyn gentleman squeezed himself past two women on a Putnam avenue car and wedged in between one of them and a man at the other end of the seat. The fit was such a tight one that the women held their breaths and assumed a pancake appearance. At the corner where the car turns into Putnam avenue the fat man turned like a big turret and put up a chubby finger. The car stopped.

"Putnam avenue; Grand avenue and Fulton street!" shouted the conductor. The fat man settled back and resumed reading a newspaper, which he had dropped in his lap.

"Want to get out here?" asked the conductor, with his hand on the bell-rope.

The fat man shook his head. There was an angry twang of the cord, and the trolley began to whiz.

At Nostrand avenue the chubby finger went up again. The car stopped. Nobody moved. Then the man who rings up the fares got angry.

"See here," he exclaimed after he had climbed along the step on the side of the car until he was opposite the fat man, "what do you mean by telling me to stop for when you don't want to get off?"

"Why," responded the mountain of flesh as coolly as such a mass of adipose could be cool, "the car jolts so that I couldn't read this paragraph, which is slightly blurred. I merely wanted to have the car stand still until I had finished it. That's all. Now, if you can go along slowly without jolting, I will be able to get along very nicely, but if I come across another bad line or two I'll put my hand back of my head, and you stop. It's too much trouble for me to turn around."

The conductor's eyes twiddled in the orbits. He placed his hand to his head and uttered shriek after shriek. Reason was shattered. He had become cross eyed and insane.—New York Mail and Express.

ANCIENT LIGHTHOUSES.

Beacon Lights to Guide Mariners Coeval With the Earliest Commerce.

Beacon lights to guide the wave tossed mariner to a safe harbor must have been almost coeval with the earliest commerce. There is positive record that lighthouses were built in ancient times, though few evidences now remain to us from old writers or in crumbled ruins. This is not strange, for light towers, never the most stable architectural form, were exposed to the storms of sea and war.

The Greeks attributed the first lighthouses to Hercules, and he was considered the protector of voyagers. It is claimed by some that Homer refers to lighthouses in the nineteenth book of the "Iliad."

Virgil mentions a light on a temple to Apollo which, visible far out at sea, warned and guided mariners. The Colossus at Rhodes, erected about 300 B. C., is said to have shown a signal light from its uplifted hand.

The oldest towers known were built by the Libyans in lower Egypt. They were temples also, and the lightkeeper priests taught pilotage, hydrography and navigation. The famous tower on the isle of Pharos, at Alexandria, built about 285 B. C., is the first lighthouse of undoubted record. This tower, constructed by Sosthratus, the architect, was square in plan, of great height and built in offsets. An open brazier at the top of the tower contained the fuel for the light. At Dover and Boulogne, on either side of the English channel, were ancient lighthouses built by the Romans. But the lighthouse at Cornuna, Spain, built in the reign of Trajan and reconstructed in 1634, is believed to be the oldest existing lighthouse.—E. P. Adams in Cassier's Magazine.

The Drug Store Telephone.

"Accommodation bureaus are all right when they are conducted as such," said a west side druggist, "but the sign over my door was intended to inform the public that drugs were dispensed within and not information doled out or telephone messages delivered blocks away. I make no kick when stamps are asked for and the city directory consulted by people, but when they ring up the telephone and call me from my work to answer it and then want a message delivered to a friend living a long distance from the store only a certificate of membership in the Antiswearing club which I have pasted on the transmitter keeps me from uttering fancy language. This morning I was at the breakfast table and was called to the phone. I found it was a lady who patronized me about once a month. She didn't talk plainly and kept me guessing for 15 minutes what she was driving at. I discovered that she wanted me to tell her next door neighbor that she wouldn't be home to dinner and ask her to open a window of the house and for mercy sake feed the poor little cat." The telephone has been removed.—Buffalo Enquirer.

Angelo's Verdict.

Once a painter notorious for plagiarisms executed a historical picture in which every figure of importance was copied from some other artist, so that very little remained to himself. It was shown to Michael Angelo by a friend, who begged his opinion of it. "Excellent done," said Angelo, "only, at the day of judgment, when all bodies will resume their own limbs again, I do not know what will become of that historical painting, for there will be nothing left of it."—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Origin of Dyspepsia.

Doctor—"It's merely a case of dyspepsia, ma'am."

Wife—"And what does that come from?"

Doctor—"It comes from the Greek, ma'am."

Wife—"Ah, I thought he'd been getting at something. He was all right as long as he stuck to beer."—Wilkesbarre Newsdealer.
